Sensory profile

Visual: Straw-yellow color with brilliant highlights. Effervescence characterized by a very fine-grained perlage, with a high number of bubbles and good persistence. Olfactory: Intense and complex. Evolving olfactory profile: the initial impression is mineral (flint) and delicately vegetal (undergrowth), which then opens up to fruity notes (yellow plum, white melon) and balsamic hints (medicinal herbs). These are followed by tertiary notes attributable to yeast autolysis (bread crust, pastry) and more mature fruit (peach, dried apricot). Taste-Olfactory: Dry and taut on the palate, with great freshness thanks to a vertical and well-defined acidity, yet balanced by a notable creaminess and softness derived from the long aging on the lees. Elegant structure and good gustatory progression. Long and persistent finish with savory notes that provide cleanliness and invite another sip. Winemaker's Notes: A French-inspired Blanc de Noir that enhances the elegance and complexity of the grape variety. The soft pressing to extract only the free-run must (42%) and the vinification in steel contribute to the aromatic finesse and gustatory tension. It has remarkable aging potential in the bottle.

Serving suggestion

This Blanc de Noir, with its elegance and structure, is very versatile but shows its best with refined preparations and quality ingredients. Fresh Oysters, High-Quality Cured Ham (e.g., San Daniele), Seafood Risotto, Seared Scallops.
