Sensory profile

Visual: Deep, concentrated ruby red with a garnet rim. Slow-flowing legs in the glass (high glycerol content). Olfactory: Intense, complex, and refined. Ample bouquet: black fruit compote (dried plum, blackberry), sweet spices (vanilla, cocoa, licorice), balsamic notes (eucalyptus, mint), tobacco, leather, a slight hint of graphite (mineral). Palate/Olfactory: Dry, warm, soft, and velvety. Elegant and perfectly integrated tannins. Full-bodied, with restrained acidity that is sufficient to balance the structure. Long and persistent finish with a return of the fruit, spice, chocolate, and a toasted nuance. Overall Assessment: Aromatic richness and complexity, velvety tannin texture, balance between power and elegance, ability to evolve over time. An exemplary high-end Merlot, highlighting the suitability of the Spessa di Cividale terroir for this varietal. The natural over-ripening of the grapes and aging in barriques contribute to a wine of great concentration, complexity, and pleasure.

Serving suggestion

In addition to the classic pairing with cheeses and pork, this wine's distinctive nose and palate make it the ideal partner with roast and baked meats, as well as those with succulent, full-flavoured stuffings.
